The Upton-by-Chester Local History Group was founded in September 2002. With a membership in excess of 100, the Group meets monthly with a typical attendance of fifty. We also welcome 'out of area' members who share our interests.

The Group continues to compile a local archive of facts and artefacts with the website its main means of publicity. We were awarded a Lottery Heritage Grant to purchase a computer projector – this enables us to display web-based information to those without internet access. The website will feature any book corrections as they become apparent. Similarly, it is hoped that publication will trigger considerably more historical information. Where appropriate, this will be web-published. We welcome constructive comment in the 'Guestbook'.

Further publications will be based on book, booklet, leaflet, CD or web as appropriate. These are expected to be on specific topics within the history of the Upton area. This will necessitate significant research and archaeology – which we are planning.

The Group wishes to have wide appeal. To this end, the programme will continue to be varied and membership costs kept at a minimum. We intend to increase our status by presentation of papers and by further partnership with the academic world and other local history groups.

We would welcome any Upton based items of historical interest.
